WOULD REPLACE PRUSSIA

Bavaria Would be Leader in Affairs of Germany—Rumors of Terrorist Revolt.

Amsterdam, Nov. 25.—Increasing efforts by the republic of Bavaria to replace Prussia as the leader in the affairs of Germany are indicated by latest German advices.

Kurt Eisner, the New Bavarian Premier, who as a radical journalist throughout the war condemned the militarist policy of Prussia, has gone to Berlin, according to a Munich dispatch, to demand the resignation of Baron von dem Bussche and all those responsible for the war. He will further demand that all these men be placed on trial, the dispatch says.

This is the first inking allowed to go abroad that Von dem Bussche and others who held important positions in the imperial government were retained in their offices.

Baron von dem Bussche, one-time counsellor of the German Embassy at Washington and later head of the American Department of the German foreign office, has been under secretary of state for foreign affairs since the Hertling regime.

RICHMOND THEATRE

Enrico Caruso, the distinguished tenor, and perhaps the most commanding figure in the operatic world today, will be seen in his initial Artcraft photoplay, "My Cousin," at the Richmond tonight.

Mr. Caruso is not only the greatest tenor of modern times, but he is an actor of exceptional ability, as his work in this superb photoplay amply proves. The story deals with the fortunes of a poor artist and a successful tenor, but which are marvels of mimetic art in Mr. Caruso's hands.

It is said by critics to be one of the finest pictures from every standpoint issued this seasen. That it affords Mr. Caruso abundant opportunities for the display of his brilliant talents, is readily conceded.

GERMAN BOLSHEVIKI

Radicals, Led by Carl Liebknecht, Overthrow Republican Government at Berlin, Headed by Chancellor Frederick Ebert

London, Nov. 25.—German radicals, led by Carl Liebknecht, have overthrown the republican government at Berlin headed by Chancellor Frederick Ebert, according to advices from Berne and Copenhagen. Turmoil prevails in the German capital, the dispatches said.

(The followers of Liebknech are known as the Spartacus group, and are in sympathy with the Russian Bolsheviki.)

The Spartacus group is in complete control at Dusseldorf, Solingen, and Remscheid, where they have arrested the city officials, it was stated in a dispatch.

A Copenhagen correspondent wires that the Central Government at Berlin called man ytroops to that city and that the down-town buildings are packed with soldiers.

Earlier advices said that stores of ammunition were collected in Berlin for use against the Extremists, but that the city was quiet on Saturday following a two-day burst of fighting when the Bolsheviki attempted a coup.

The German internal situation is highly critical and a military coup d'etat is almost certain unless the returning troops vigorously support the Berlin government, says a Munich dispatch.

A Copenhagen correspondent reports Berlin advices as saying that the pope has appealed to Anglo French episcopacies and the French government for a modification of the armistice terms "in view of the famine in the Rhine districts.

Kurt Eisner, head of the Bavarian republic, was quoted in dispatches that Bolshevism or a Berlin dictatorship would result in the rupture of Bavaria. He favored a split-up into ten German republics having equal authority and rights.

Strikes have broken out in the coal fields of Upper Silesia.

THOS. W. COLLINGSWORTH DIES

Was Oldest Barber in the City—Funeral Tomorrow Morning

Thomas W. Collingsworth, the oldest and one of the best known barbers in the city, died shortly after 2 o'clock Sunday morning at his residence, 137 South Fairfax street. His death followed an illness of about two weeks and was due to paralysis.

For the past forty-seven years Mr. Collingsworth had conducted a barber shop in this city.

The deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. Francis Crop, Westmoreland county, Va., together with several nieces.

His funeral will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from Wheatley's mortuary chapel and services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the M. E. Church South.

GRAND THEATRE

Like all good generals, Smith never sends his men where he himself is afraid to go. A very dangerous fall was necessary in "Wolves of the Border." Rather than order one of his cowboys to do it Smith decided to perform the feat himself.

A Fatty Arbuckle comedy will be the added attraction at the Grand tomorrow.

GLASS APPEARS IN LEAD

One of Authors of Federal Reserve Act And Had Charge of It in House—Student of Banking Questions.

Congressman Carter Glass, Lynchburg, appears to be the leading figure among those likely to be considered for appointment as Secretary of the Treasury to succeed William G. McAdoo, who resigned. Names have been suggested for the Director Generalship of Railroads also, but nothing has yet appeared to indicate that a selection is likely to be made soon.

It is known that Mr. Glass's name will be considered for the Secretaryship of the Treasury, and there are circumstances that point to his selection although it would be going too far to say that any decision had been reached. Mr. Glass is in Europe, a member of a part of Congressmen visiting the war areas. He has two sons in the American Expeditionary Forces. He is expected to return home soon, and as the prospect is that the President will send the nomination of the Secretary of the Treasury to the Senate when Congress reconvenes on December 2, the President's choice may fall on Mr. Glass by the time he arrives in the United States.

Mr. Glass is chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, and was one of the authors of the Federal Reserve Act. When the possibility of Mr. McAdoo's retirement has been discussed in the past from time to time, Mr. Glass usually has been mentioned as a possible successor.

It is known that the high regard for Mr. Glass's financial ability held by President Wilson and McAdoo has no undergone any change, and that Mr. Glass may be considered a serious possibility for the Secretaryship of the Treasury. Mr. Glass is serving his ninth term in Congress, and on November 5 was elected for a tenth term. He is the owner of the Daily News and the Daily Advance, of Lynchburg. He has made a study of banking methods, and as a member of the House Committee on Banking and Currency has given close attention to the currency question. As chairman of that committee he drafted the bill for the creation of a Federal reserve banking system and had charge of the measure on the floor of the House. He was also one of the conferees of the joint House and Senate Committee which drafted the bill in the shape in which it became a law. He is regarded by the Administration as an able man, extremely conscientious and with great moral courage.

ADJUSTING OF WAR COST

U. S. and British Reach Understanding on Mutual Service Charges.

The United States and Great Britain, it was stated yesterday on authority have agreed on the principle by which there shall be a settlement of mutual indebtedness in such matters as use of ships, transportation of troops to Europe, docking charges and other related items of charge.

This has been done so lately that there have been as yet no great batches of bills presented from British sources, and it is to be expected the status is the same with respect to France. It is also stated that the question of settlement with France will be a comparatively easy task, as the United States has now on French soil millions of dollars worth of permanent structures which will aid in the immediate reconstruction of France if taken over by the government.

That Great Britain and France should have bills against the United States is officials say at first sight not generally obvious. Authorities say, however, that before the United Sent money in large sums to the allies. This has to be paid back. When the United States went, in however, it went in with its own cause of quarrel against Germany, and in order to carry on the "war of the United States against Germany," its policy was necessarily one of payment for any military privilege to make the war of the United States a success.

THE PRICE FOR FREEDOM

Fifty-three thousand Americans lost their lives in the recent war for Liberty. The great bulk of the American Expeditionary Force will, as soon as possible, be returned to their native land.

Some, it is thought, may be again with us by Thanksgiving Day, others in time to partake of Christmas dinners, while many more may not see the land of their birth before the early part of next year.

There are anxious relatives and friends in Alexandria anticipating the return of loved ones. Letters are being received occasionally from their boys "over there," and now that fighting has ceased they experience untold relief. As is stated elsewhere, hundreds of bags of mail were landed at New York yesterday, mostly letters from American soldiers, some of whom are now in Germany. During the present week these missives will be distributed, and many will no doubt come to Alexandria.

That there is to be no delay in returning the American army to this country in order that the men who left to serve the nation may resume their private business is indicated by teh orders sent to General Pershing authorizing him to return about 1,000,000 as soon as transportation can be provided for them. This is approximately one-half the American force in Europe, and it represents the percentage which will not be needed in the army of occupation to hold enemy territory pending the decisions of the peace conference. It is indicated that the first troops to be sent home will be railroad artillery, army artillery, gas troops and tank troops. Several divisions have been indicated for early transportation to the United States.

FACTS FROM HISTORY

In a proclamation of the Kaiser in 1914, addressed to his army of the East the following words occurred:

"The spirit of the Lord has descended upon me because I am the Emperor of the Germans. I am the instrument of the Almighty. I am His sword, His agent. Woe and death to all those who oppose my will! Woe and death to those who do not believe in my mission! Woe and death to the cowards! Let them perish, all the enemies of the German people! God demands their destruction. God, who, by my mouth, bids you to do His will!"

The sword of Damocles was at this time hanging over the head of this misguided despot. In little more than four years he was to become a fugitive from his incensed people, following the example of a number of others in history.

There have been more abdications than is generally supposed. More than 40 since the beginning of the Christian era are chronicled by the historians, three of them being Popes. They were not all strictly abdications, but in all there was a yielding of power, either voluntarily or under pressure mostly the latter.

Thrones have fallen in this war as never before. The Czar of Russia, two Czars of Bulgaria, the King of Greece and the German Kaiser have disappeared and the Emperor of Austria-Hungary is soon to follow them. Rumania and Serbia have lost their kings. In this remarkable record must be included King Ludwig of Bavaria.

IMPERIAL CAMOUFLAGE

At last accounts the ends of William II'smustache still pointed upward, but von Tirpitz's astonishing siders no longer point downward. He disguished himself for flight to the only country which had no ships for the submarines to sink by getting a clean shave.

With Captain Persius' charges that the Grand Admiral was the cause of Germany's naval impotence in the words of an exchange, we are not concerned. But his disclosure of the condition of the fleet is interesting to the world, and especially to the German people, because it uncovers some of the camouflage that the Imperial Government practiced in every direction. It led the German people to suppose that the fleet they had paid for was a match, if not for the whole British navy, at least for any British fleet that it was likely to encounter at any one time and place.

The fleet, however, was inferior to the British, ship for ship and gun for gun. The vessels were no match for the British North Sea squadron. The German Government never dared use its high seas fleet except on one occasion and then, off Jutland, it was so badly used up that the naval authorities recognized that they could not again fight a battle at sea. But he Government told the nation that a great victory had been won, and hated England was no longer the ruler of the seas.

William II was a camouflage Emperor. His diplomatic service was beneath contempt. His naval administration was a vast false pretense.

DEATH OF OLD CITIZEN

As is stated elsewhere in the Gazette, Thomas W. Collingsworth, one of our old and esteemd citizens, died early yesterday at his home on Fairfax street, near Prince. The deceased had attained a good old age. His wife passed away in December 1916, nearly two years ago.

In the death of Mr. Collingsworth the last of Alexandrai's ante bellum barbers passes away. The deceased was during the latter part of the fifties an apprentice in this city, and during the civil war he embarked in business for himself in a building on the west side of Royal street, one door from King. He had since conducted a tonsorial parlor in Alexandria.

Cotemporary with Mr. Collingsworth were Thomas Barrage, James W. Simpson, Harrison Jacobs, James Rudd, John Birrell and others, all of whom long since paid the debt of nature.

In the olden times only white men conductd barbers' shops in Alexandria. At the close of the war, however, colored wielders of the razor and shears embarked in the business, and for several years colored artists were in the majority. In recent years white barbers have become numerous again, and a number of new shops have been established in different quarters of the city.

The subject of this notice had long ben as a lone tree in a clearing, all of his cotemporaries having passed away.

THE LITTLE GERMAN BAND

Well up near the top in the list of "benefits due to the war," we must find space for a record of the elimination of "Dot Leedle Cherman Bandt" suggests the Philadelphia Record, which, it says, will probably never again venture to practice its inflictions upon peace-loving neighborhoods. For if the present anti-Teutonic feeling were not enough to check its reappearance in public, the abolition of the saloon, which is to be effected later as a wartime measure, will surely administer the death blow. For the beer saloon was always a necessary cooling station for the German bands cruising through the city streets. Moored to the empty kegs on the sidewalk, they always played their loudest and darndest.

The complement of the band varied from four to eight.

The band was funny, unconsciously so, until it got to be a nuisance.

Occasionally such itnerants appeared in Alexandria. They never tarried long, however

CHANUKAH

Spirit of Jewish Festival Pictures Soul of Belgium.

The festival of Chanukah, which will be celebrated in all Jewish homes for eight days beginning with Thursday evening, November 28th, embodies the elements of the present world struggle. The festival commemorates the historic incidents related in the apocryphal "Books of the Maccabees." The heroic suffering of the Jews of that day finds a modern parallel in the plight of the Belgian people. In many a Jewish household, the infamous Antrochus Epiphanes of the story will be compared to his sucessor in spirit, the inhuman Emperor of Germany. Like his modern embodiment, the ancient tyrant of Syria found the land of Israel a stumbling block in the pathway of his ambition for territorial expansion. In order to destroy all vestiges if independence in Judea, this tyrant sought to crush the Jewish religion and to set up his pagan cult in its place. For three years his ruthless armies devastated and despoiled city and hamlet. Then Judah the Lion arose and with God's help smote the hosts of Syria and rolled back the armies of oppression. He swept the enemies from the land, rebuilt the cities, established safety and rededicated the Temple in Jerusalem to the worship of God. The anniversary is therefore known as the Festival of Rededication (Chanukah). It is a home festival and is signalized by lighting candles on each of the eight evenings. In these troubled days the heart of every Jew will go forth to the Belgian sufferers and will find encouragement in the message of the festival, which is addressed to Belgium as well as to Israel and to all humanity. It is summed up in the words of Prophet Zacharia, read on this festival: "Not by might and not by power, but by My Spirit saith the Lord of hosts."

House a lengthy memorandum on the situation.

Correspondent Writes That Hatred of Ex-Emperor Makes Berlin Visit Dangerous

London, Nov. 25.—From a special investigation in Western Germany, the correspondent of the Daily Mail at The Hague, has ascertained that there is considerable hostility against the former Emperor and his eldest son. The correspondent says that after William Hohenzollern had entered Holland, 1,000 German soldiers arrived at the frontier and demanded that they be allowed to pursue and kill him. They were turned back by Dutch guards.

The correspondent does not believe that the former Emperor could reach Berlin in safety, no matter what guarantees might be given. The former crown prince is universally hated also. His life in Germany, the correspondent declares, would not be worth an hour's purchase. He is under the closest guard in Holland.

U-BOAT A BOOMERANG

Such is View Expressed by Editor of the Berlin Tageblatt.

Stockholm, Nov. 25.—The growing agitation in the German press against U-boat warfare, just before Berlin's first peace bid, is illustrated by the following from a recent issue of the Berliner Tageblatt:

"The work of the submarines is proving more and more disastrous to the groups of belligerents. Millions of tons of foodstuffs and raw materials lie on the bottom of the sea—England, however, has not been 'starved into submission,' France is not prostrate, the war goes on.

"Germany's enemies, the opponents of the Prussian system, are stiffening their resistance, accumulating ever new strength, and becoming ever more determined to win.

"Th U-boat war has accomplished great deeds; it has demonstrated German valor. But it has displayed unnecessary brutality, and its fateful consequences appear to work, not against the entente, but against Germany herself."

VIRGINIA NEWS

Henry White, who was accidentally shot by his brother, Charles, Monday, died at the Mary Washington Hospital, Fredericksburg, Friday night from the effects of the wounds.

Capt. Thomas Bolling Byrd, son of United States District Attorney Byrd, who has been with the Thirtieth division since its formation at Camp Sevier, has been promoted to the rank of major.

All points along the south Atlantic coast from Cape Henry to Savannah were warned by the weather bureau yesterday of a northeast storm off the Georgia coast which was moving in a northerly direction and apparently increasing in intensity.

James Ashby, aged 65, superintendent of schools of Stafford and King George counties, died Saturday at the Mary Washington Hospital, Fredericksburg, where he had been receiving treatment. Mr. Ashby was a vestryman of old historic Aquia Church in Stafford.

While Mrs. L. L. Harrison, mother of Amaynard C. Harrison, was making a purchase last week in Danville in a clothing store of Christmas presents for her three sons in France, he was reached by long-distance telephone by her husband from Ruffin, N. C., and told the sad news that her son, Amaynard, had fallen a victim to the deadly aim of the Hun guns on October 10. The mother, on recipt of this, immediately fainted, and had to be taken to a physician's office.

Preparations have about been completed to care for 13,000 regulars from Hoboken, N. J., who are scheduled to begin arriving at Camp Lee today. Approximately 2,000 men from the central officers' training school at Camp Lee were mustered out of the service yesterday, and left for their homes. At a late hour Saturday night a special train left camp, carrying about 1,000 men. Graduates from the central officers' training school who have been mustered out of service will have their certificates of proficiency mailed to them on November 30.

American expeditionary forces abroad had less than fifty men blinded as a result of the war, according to Dr. J. E. Hendericksson, of Phoebus, who returned to his home in Newport News last week from Washington, where he conferred with the surgeon-general of the army relative to the disposition and care of blinded soldiers. According to official figures, Dr. Hendrickson said, twenty-two blind soldiers have been sent home and eight more still are in France awaiting their turn to be sent back. This total is said to be remarkably low for this class of wounded, conidering the total number of casualties.

Flying at a height of 3,000 feet over Selfridge field near Mt Clemens, Mich., Saturday, two airplanes collided and became locked together. The machines went into a tail spin but Cadet Braddes Chewning, of Roanoke, the pilot of the larger and more powerful plane, gained control of his machine and with the two still clinging together, manuevered them in such a way as to break the shock of the landing. The four aviators received only minor injuries.

Two firemen were painfully injured Saturday night when the America Theater, a negro playhouse, on Harrison street, Petersburg, was destroyed by fire. There were about 200 persons in the building. All made their escape uninjured. An adjoining lodging house also was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $15,000, partly covered by insurance.

KAISER A FOOD HOARDER

Inconceivable How Such a Vast Amount Could Have Been Gathered After Four Years of War.

Amsterdam, Nov. 25.—"How Willhelm Held Out," is the title of an article in the Frankfort Volks Stimme, by Wilhelm Carl, a socialist, who discovered the hoards of provisions which the former emperor had in his Berlin palace.

"The quantity," the writer says, exceeded all expectations. In large white tiled rooms was everything, literally everything one can imagine in foodstuffs. It is inconceivable that after four years of war such large quantities could be hoarded. There was meat and game in cold storage, salted provisions in large cases, white meal, in sacks piled to the roof, thousands of eggs, gigantic boxes filled with tea, coffee, chocolate, lard, jelly, and jam; hundreds of sugar loaves and endless stacks of peas, beans, dried fruits and biscuits. Their value amounts to several thousand marks.

"These hoarded foodstuffs cannot be better used than to be preserved as a lasting memorial to our posterity which should see how, while millions in Germany starved, those elected by the grace of God held out."

Amsterdam, Saturday, Nov. 25.—Willhelm Hohenzollern, the former German Emperor, has not left the grounds of Amerongen Castle since he was interned there, Dutch newspapers say.

The former emperor begins each day with a walk about the castle grounds and then attends a religious service conducted by Count von Bentincke or the count's son. The day closes with another walk in the gardens. The officers of his suite, however, dash about the country in automobiles.

The pastor of the village church twice has dined with the former emperor's party. Other legal notables also have visited the castle.

Some Dutch papers criticise the government for placing special telephone facilities at the disposal of the former emperor. The Bentincke family again emphasizes the fact that they received the former emperor only at the request of the Dutch government.

COMING PEACE CONGRESS

U-Boat Operations Likely to be Confined by Treaty to War Vessels

Restriction of submarine operations against merchant ships so as to prevent attacks like that against the Luitania doubtlessly will be proposed in the discussion by the peace congress of the "freedom of the seas" question.

It is the view of leading naval authorities who have examined this branch of the subject that submarine operations should be limited to attacking warships forming the regular part of a navy. Attacks would be prohibited against merchant ships, either passenger or freight, and whether armed defensively or otherwise. According to this view submarines would continue to be an arm of a naval sacrifice, but their use would be confined strictly to naval warfare.

A plan to swamp Spain with Bolshevist agitators has been nipped in the bud by Spanish authorities, according to Madrid advices. Many Bolshevist agents have been arrested at Barcelona, Madrid, Cordova, Cadiz, and other Spanish cities.

The German frontier was crossed at several places yesterday by American Signal Corps units and ambulance workers. Short trips were made into Rhenish Prussia, where the inhabitants are reported to have shown the Americans every consideration.

The Turkish government, according to a Berlin dispatch, has formally demanded from the German revolutionary government the return of Talaat Pasha and several Turkish generals who fled to Germany. Turkey proposes to punish Talaat Pasha and the generals for the Armenian atrocities.

One million two hundred thousand soldiers out of the service by New Year's Day is the estimate of army officers who are in touch with the mustering out processes. In round numbers it is calculated that 32,000 a day will be the figure from December 1 until January 1 and that after the latter day the rate will probably be about 5,000 a day.

Evidence has been discovered of a German plan to destroy the Palais de Justice in Brussels, according to a dispatch from the Belgian capital. Four infernal machines provided with wicks were found in close proximity to a large quantity of gunpowder and ammunition. It is supposed that the plan was laid in preparation for a forced evacuation of the city before the signing of the armistice.

With the return to Washington today of Secretary of State Lansing, it is expected that steps will be taken to announce the personnel of the United States delegation to the Peace Congress. There is reason to believe that the names will be made public before Wednesday. The best opinion in Washington names the following men in the order of their probability of selection: Secretary Lansing, Col. E. M. House, Elihu Root, Justice Brandeis, Bernard Baruch, Senator Phelan, of California, and William Jennings Bryan.

A million letters from "our boys" overseas that will gladden the hearts of the "folks back home" reached America yesterday on the French liner Rochambeau. The thousands of bags containing the mail were rushed to the New York postoffice and the delivery of what is believed to be the Thanksgiving correspondence of the American Expeditionary Forces was started at once. There is something for somebody in every State—and something for somebody in almost every town—in the big pouches.

Overnight advices on the economic and military situation in Russia have encouraged United States officials to believe that the American and allied forces operating toward Moscow as a common meeting place are not endangered by the apparent military domination of the Bolshevist Red Guards. In the minds of many in Washington the terrible excesses of the armed mobs of Petrograd in the past week are the last flames from the conflagration which burst forth when the Bolshevists realized that the German cause was lost, and that awakened to the true conditions under which Russia withdrew from the great war.

The American Federation of Labor is not in sympathy with the strikes reported threatened in protest against the pending execution of Thomas J. Mooney. Officers of the Federation are doing all in their power to effect executive clemency for Mooney because they believe there is a reasonable doubt of his guilt. They are opposed to the use of the strike weapon because they believe that such tactics tend more to injure than to help Mooney's chances for a new trial.

American soldiers headed the procession of troops which entered Brussels yesterday morning with King Albert. One battalion of fine-looking fellows from the Ninety-first Division, which comes from the Coast States, was followed by a battery of artillery from the Fifty-third Brigade. No finer troops marched through Brussels yesterday than the Yankees, and none, except perhaps the Belgians, were given a heartier reception. These boys are fresh from the battle fields, for they are the troops which fought so brilliantly in the drive for Audenarde, just before the armistice was signed.

AMERICAN RAILWAY EXPRESS OFFICIALS JOIN WITH COUNCIL OF DEFENSE IN PLEA FOR EARLY CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

(Suggest December 10th as Final Shipping Date.)

Vice-President D. S. Elliott, in charge of traffic fo rthe American Railway Express Company, has informed all operating officials and agents of the express organization throughout the United States, that it is the purpose of the company to uphold in every way the request of the Council of Defense that Christmas express shipments be started on their way by December 5th.

A concerted effort will be made in every city and town of the country by the 125,000 express employes, to emphasize the importance of preventing any possible congestion of transportation facilities during these critical times. Although the express facilities are very elastic, so much of the equipment is now used strictly for war purposes, that all gift shipments for long bistance travel should be delivered to the express company not later than December 5th, and for short hauls not later than December 10th. This will allow ample time for sorting and delivering before Christmas Day.

"We wish to emphasize strongly," said Mr. Elliott, "the point raised by the Council of National Defense, that nothing should be forwarded, which will interfere with essential war business. Just now the movement of equipment and supplies for the Overseas Forces is heavy and exacting, and there should be no domestic burden paced upon transportation, which would tend to lessen the delivery of war shipments.

"Also during winter months there is a tremendous movement of foodstuffs to all of the larger cities. These foodstuffs are perishable and next to war shipments must be given first consideration.

"We are asking our men everywhere to bring these points before our patrons, and to emphasize more strongly than never the vital importance of proper packing and legible marking. We are asking them to refuse all shipments which are not packed strongly enough to reach their destination with ordinary handling, and to insist that the address of the sender and of the cosignee be placed on a card and enclosed inside the package."
